Reasons for donating

I like children as I teach/coach them all the time, but I don't see me having a family in the near future. I would just like to help out if I can.

Pen picture

I am a 5' 7" male, I have blue eyes and dark brown hair, I am white and fully English. I am a practical minded guy with good spatial awareness and great reactions, I find it easy to respond in all situations. I am very opinionated and enjoy learning new knowledge to back up my opinions. Because I am not an academic person I started the gym at an early age and enjoy challenging myself, you would find me traveling and going on big adventure trips. I am like a bull in a china shop; at the end of my life I would like to be covered in scars and dirt thinking what a ride that was! In my opinion that is the best way to live life.

I have been brought up to always be polite and respectful, I believe I am a good person with a good soul. I am not religious at all, but I believe in spirit, ghost and the world's energy; if I was to pick a religion it would be Buddhism, even though I do not practice any religion - life is my religion.

I personally love my life and have tried to take every opportunity life has given to me, whilst trying to have fun and improve myself along the way; I believe life is a gift that you should not waste. I live life at 100mph, taking part in all activities meeting new and interesting people along the way.

I am the oldest child of four, my mother has four boys. I was originally born down south but age ten I moved up north with my mother and brothers.

I do not currently have any children myself because I do not believe that I am ready, I enjoy my life so much I do not wish to have any children yet but one day I'm sure I will start a family. I am a school PE coach that deals with children constantly, so I don't believe I am missing out.

Goodwill message.

*I am sure you are having a wonderful life, if you are anything like me I'm sure you are fun, happy and full of life; not forgetting a little sarcastic with a little bit of weird thrown in to the mix. The reason I decided to donate was so that other families can benefit, and start a family. I'm sure that you have parents that love you very much. I believe our family blood line has good genes, I am ** years old at the time of donation and have never been seriously sick or needed medical treatment. Our family are problem solving thinkers, not so much academics or bookworm type people.*

I am good with children, fun and approachable. If one day you would like to contact me I have no problem doing so, we can meet and talk, I'm sure that will be very nice for all - I am a normal down to earth guy.

Life is hard and nothing is ever easy, but nothing worth getting is ever easy. I hope that you have a great life and lots of experiences and look forward to hearing your story someday. I am always available, if you wish to get in contact I'm sure I will enjoy meeting you. If the world was full of people like us, the world would be a better place.
